Don Corazoncito LW and San to Alati honoured Weltmeyer- und Stakkato-Preis vergeben

Verden. Traditionally, the best young dressage and show jumping stallions are honoured by the Hannoveraner Verband after their performance test. The prize is named after the two foundation stallions Weltmeyer and Stakkato. The best young dressage stallion is San to Alati, who placed highly at the World Championships for young dressage horses. Don Corancito LW proved his outstanding talent on the show jumping course.

Breeder Mariano Lardin Diez from Isernhagen was awarded the Stakkato Prize for his Don Corazoncito LW at the P.B. stallion show organised by the Club of Hannoveraner Stallion Owners. The bay Diacontinus/Bonaparte N AA son was awarded top marks in his sport test in the Niedersachsenhalle. With several top results in competitions for young show jumpers, he had qualification for the Bundeschampionat "in the bag". His dam Blanca Nieves LW was competing in sport herself and scored 9.25 in her mare performance test for her outstanding free jumping. This earned her a star in the Hannoveraner Jumper Breeding Programme.

San to Alati by Secret/Belissimo M (breeder: Lena-Marie and Kerstin Klose, Burgwedel, owner: Bernadette Brune, Westerstede) had to cancel his appearance in the Niedersachsenhalle at short notice. After his 14-day test, the beautiful chestnut stallion was licensed for Hannover. In his two sport tests focus dressage in the following years, he impressed with top scores. He won part I in Münster-Handorf with a score of 9.12 and 8.62 in Part II in Verden. At the same time, San to Alati became Hannoveraner Champion of four-year-old stallions in 2022, 14th at the FEI WBFSH World Breeding Championships for five-year-old dressage horses in Ermelo/NED after winning the warm-up test and fourth at the Bundeschampionat in Warendorf in the same year. All of this not only earned him the Weltmeyer Prize, but also the honour of being named FRH by the supporter's club of Hannoveraner sport horses.
